

Socio-Professional Categories 2010 - SPC 2010

Description

The socio-professional categories (SPC) are a classification system to represent the social structure of the population. For employed persons (excluding apprentices), the SPC are based on several basic variables (mainly on the current job, occupational status and highest completed education). For other persons, a distinction is only made between apprentices, unemployed persons and economically inactive persons.

Current version being used:

SPC 2021

Previous versions:

SPC 1990 (valid from Jan 1993 to Dec 2001)

SPC 2000 (valid from Jan 2002 to March 2011)

SPC 2010 (valid from March 2011 to Dec 2020)

Use:

Swiss Labor Force survey (SLFS)

Methodology

Hierarchical structure:

Two digit (1st level) and three digit (2nd level).

Legal bases

Federal Statistics Act of 9 October 1992 (SR 431.01)

Organization

Federal Statistical Office (FSO)

Labour Force Section (AES)

+41 58 463 64 00

info.arbeit@bfs.admin.ch
