04 National Economy

Gross domestic product by canton in 2020

Gross domestic product fell in almost all cantons in 2020

2020 was marked by the COVID-19 pandemic, which affected the entire regional economic fabric in Switzerland. National growth in gross domestic product (GDP) fell to -2.4% at the previous year's prices and almost all cantons recorded a decline in activity. Jura was the most affected (-8.5%), followed by Neuchâtel (-6.5%), Glarus (-5.3%) and Ticino (-5.2%). Only the cantons of Zug (1.6%) and Schaffhausen (0.7%) recorded an increase. These figures come from the latest estimates of the Federal Statistical Office (FSO).
