Structural data from medical practices and ambulatory centres 2021

Medical practices: one in four doctors aged 60 or over at the end of 2021

At the end of 2021, there were 25 439 doctors working in medical practices and ambulatory centres in Switzerland. They represented 19 004 doctors in full-time equivalents. Just over one in four doctors was aged 60 or over. These are the latest findings from the Federal Statistical Office (FSO).
