Digital platform services 2024

Digital platform services are not very common in Switzerland

In 2024, 0.9% of the population said that they had performed digital platform services in the last 12 months. This is where the person performing a service is connected to a client via an internet platform. By type of activity, 0.2% of the population had undertaken digital platform employment in the narrower sense (taxi services, food delivery services, programming, etc.), 0.4% had rented out accommodation via an internet platform and 0.2% had sold goods that they intentionally collected, bought or produced for sale on an internet platform. These are the findings of the Swiss Labour Force Survey (SLFS) conducted by the Federal Statistical Office (FSO).
