Producer and Import Price Index in July 2025

Producer and Import Price Index fell in July by 0.2%

The Producer and Import Price Index fell in July 2025 by 0.2% compared with the previous month, reaching 106.2 points (December 2020 = 100). Prices fell in particular for watches and medical and dental instruments and supplies. In contrast, petroleum, natural gas and petroleum products saw higher prices. Compared with July 2024, the price level of the whole range of domestic and imported products fell by 0.9%. These are the results of the Federal Statistical Office (FSO).

Falling prices were recorded compared with the previous month in the Producer Price Index, particularly for watches. Medical and dental instruments and supplies, metal products and electronic components and boards also became cheaper. On the other hand, prices for petroleum products rose.

Petroleum, natural gas and petroleum products in particular were responsible for the increase in the Import Price Index compared with June 2025. In contrast, medical and dental instruments and supplies, green coffee and metal products became cheaper, as did furniture, citrus fruits, food products, vegetables, melons and potatoes.

Applicable prices

The prices of domestic products are surveyed for the domestic market at the first marketing stage (i.e. ex works). These ex works prices include neither valued added tax nor consumption tax (e.g. on tobacco, alcohol or petroleum products).

For exports, net sales prices are surveyed FOB (free on board) which, pursuant to definition, do not include valued added tax.

For imports, prices are surveyed at the Swiss border minus valued added, consumption and customs taxes.

In general, the market prices (transaction prices) for products are surveyed at the time of ordering. Price reductions (discounts) are deducted. Prices in foreign currencies are converted at the exchange rate on the first working day of the survey reference period in Swiss francs. The reference period always covers the period from the 1st to 8th of the survey month. This provision allows the results for the reference month to be calculated and published in the course of the subsequent month.
