Household Budget Survey: 2024 results

Stable incomes, rising housing costs

In 2024, private household incomes in Switzerland changed little compared with 2023. The average disposable income of CHF 7209 per month was comparable to that of the previous year. By contrast, consumer spending, particularly on housing, which amounts to CHF 1546, continued to rise compared with 2023. These are some of the findings from the 2024 Household Budget Survey carried out by the Federal Statistical Office (FSO).
