Swiss Residential Property Price Index in 3rd quarter 2026

Residential property prices increased by 1.7% in 3rd quarter 2026

In the 3rd quarter 2026, the Swiss Residential Property Price Index (IMPI) increased by 1.7% compared with the previous quarter to stand at 129.8 points (4th quarter 2019 = 100). Across Switzerland, single-family house prices rose (+2.1%) as did condominium prices (+1.3%). The biggest rise in residential property prices was observed in urban municipalities of a small or outside agglomeration (+3.4%), while the smallest increase was recorded in intermediate municipalities (+0.6%). Compared with the same quarter of the previous year, total inflation stood at +4.4%. These are some of the results from the Federal Statistical Office (FSO).

Results

The detailed results and an interactive map of Switzerland showing the rates of change for each type of municipality are now available on the FSO portal www.impi.bfs.admin.ch. The figures for the 4th quarter 2026 will be published on 29 January 2027.
